

Dated... But Never Outdated Reads

Congress of the United States,

Organ and held at the City of New York, on Wednesday, the fourth of March, 1793, at two o'clock, afternoon and eighty one.

Historical Fiction for Teens

IAIN LAWRENCE:

Lord of the Nutcracker Men

YA Lawr

As the horrors of World War I unravel, ten-year old Johnny believes that he holds the fate of his father and all of the soldiers lives in his hands as he plays war with the toy soldiers his father sends him.

HARRY MAZER:

A Boy at War

YA Maze

Adam Pelko watches in horror as the Japanese launch a sneak attack on the United States Naval Base at Pearl Harbor and must face the reality of life without his father who died aboard the U.S.S. Arizona.

ANN RINALDI:

Taking Liberty: The Story of Oney Judge, George Washington's Runaway Slave

YA Rina

Despite her mother's warnings, Oney Judge is comfortable living as the house slave of George Washington. When she realizes that his promise to free his slaves at the time of his death does not hold true for her, Oney Judge decides to make her escape.

LAURIE HALSE ANDERSON:

Fever, 1793

YA Ande

Sixteen-year old Matilda Cook and her grandfather flee the city of Philadelphia during the summer of 1793, the summer of the yellow fever epidemic. Matilda perseveres, separated from her sick mother, her grandfather dead, and showing signs of the fever herself.

CAROL MATAS:

In My Enemy's House

YA Mata

As her family and friends are being arrested by the Nazis, one young Jewish girl makes the painful decision to conceal her identity and work in the house of a German official.

STEPHEN CRANE:

The Red Badge of Courage

YA Cran

As the horrors of the Civil war become a reality, Henry Fleming must make a decision: fight alongside those he calls friend or desert his post.

CHRIS CROWE:

Mississippi Trial, 1955

YA Crow

While visiting his grandfather for the summer, Hiram Hillburn meets a young African American teenager from Chicago, Emmett Till, who is later found murdered after looking in the direction of a white woman.

SONIA LEVITIN:

Room in the Heart

YA Levi

After the Nazi occupation of Denmark, Julie Weinstein and Niels Nelson attempt to lead normal lives while resisting their German occupants. Niels, his family, and other Danish families, help rescue the Weinstein family as well as other Jewish families.

DEAN HUGHES:

Soldier Boys

YA Hugh

Two teenagers, one American and one German, are eager to fight for their respective countries. When their paths cross at the Battle of the Bulge, they realize that war is truly horrible.

LENSEY NAMIOKA:

Ties that Bind, Ties that Break

YA Nami

Tao Ailin, the third sister in her family, is allowed to break from the tradition her family has maintained for many generations: she is not forced to have her feet bound. Ailin overcomes her feelings of isolation and forges a life for herself in America.

LINDA SUE PARK:

When My Name was Keoko

YA Park

Kim Sun-Hee and her family endure the Japanese occupation of Korea and the changes that occur in their lives after the onset of World War II; they resist. After the war, the Kim family return to their way of life and continue with their promotion of their Korean heritage.