Key Arts Productions Presents:

RESPECT. Aretha Franklin's Musical Journey with Civil Rights

She was the powerful voice of a generation and beyond. Franklin spent the turbulent 60s building her career. In 1967, she released her most famous song, and one that became inextricably linked to the civil rights & feminist movements of the time. Through rousing live musical performance and integrated video projection, RESPECT tells the life story of the anointed Queen of Soul. Sponsored by The Ocean County Library Foundation and The OceanFirst Foundation Arts and Cultural Grant.
