Specifications for the INVITATION TO BID
For Library Debt Collection Services for the Ocean County Library
101 Washington Street
Toms River, New Jersey 08753
A. INTENT

The purpose of this Invitation to BID is to present the Ocean County Library’s (OCL) requirements and related information for collecting non-returned library materials, fines and fees. OCL’s primary need is to recover library materials.

The terms, Organization and Contractor, used throughout this BID request are used to define Organization as those firms submitting a BID and Contractor as the firm or firms selected to perform the work specified. OCL is used to define the Ocean County Library.

B. OCEAN COUNTY LIBRARY OVERVIEW

The Ocean County Library consists of 19 branch libraries and 2 reading centers. OCL’s holdings number over 1,300,000 items. Approximately 248,000 borrowers are currently registered. Annual circulation is more than 4.0 million items per year. OCL has reciprocal borrowing agreements with other libraries in New Jersey.

1. OCL charges various fines and fees. OCL charges fines of $00.15 per day for overdue library books, audio materials, periodicals, and all videos and DVDs with the exception of Adult feature films and video games to a maximum of $15.00 per item. Fines on Equipment, including but not limited to, Laptops/Tablets/Chromebooks and WIFI Hotspots are $5.00 per day, to a maximum of $15.00 per item. On the fourth day overdue, equipment will be set to “lost” status and the customer will be charged for the replacement cost of the item.

2. When materials become overdue OCL does the following: One delinquency notice is sent either through computer-generated voice system, email, text messaging or mail at seven (7) days to (10) days per library discretion overdue for all material types. When an item is twenty-two (22) days overdue a second notice is given via the computer voice system, email, text messaging or mail for all material types. At forty-five (45) days overdue for all material types the item is “set” to lost and a bill is sent by mail. If a lost item is returned, the item is set to lost, the customer is charged only the replacement cost of the item. If a lost item is returned, the replacement cost is waived from the customer’s account, and they are not charged overdue fines. The customer may not use their OCL borrowing privileges if the amount due is more than $24.99. When a customer reaches $25.00 in fines a notice is sent either through computer-generated voice system, email, text messaging or mail.

3. Overdue customer accounts with balances of $50.00 or more will be submitted for collection by the vendor, approximately two (2) weeks after the bill is sent. It is estimated that approximately 150 accounts will be submitted for collection each month.

4. OCL will provide limited customer information for submitting accounts and will provide daily updates via ASCII computer output using Polaris Integrated Systems software.

C. REQUIREMENTS

1. The Contractor shall perform all services as described herein unless OCL agrees in writing to any change. All work performed shall be conducted according to applicable provisions of the Federal Fair Debt Collection Practices Act.
2. Language of letters sent to customers must be pre-approved by OCL. Letters must separately show the amount due for materials, the amount due for fines/fees, and the total cost.

3. The Contractor will be expected to help with on-site training and implementation as needed by OCL at no additional cost.

4. The contractor staff shall meet with OCL staff upon request.

5. The Contractor and OCL shall establish a signed contract which includes written procedures for providing the services described herein.

6. The Contractor shall have, as a minimum, the capabilities listed herein, and the response submitted must describe in detail, the execution of these services, and also the degree of expertise in utilizing these capabilities.

7. The Contractor shall place an emphasis on the return of materials to OCL. The Contractor shall also have customers direct all payments back to OCL.

8. It is essential to maintain customer goodwill while keeping the service budget neutral, and using the latest technology available to communicate with the customer.

9. Implementation will occur within sixty days of contract signing and services will be required for a (1) year period commencing July 1, 2021 with a second year renewable option if agreed by both parties. Notification to renew or terminate the contract will be communicated by March 31, 2022 to the contract holder at that time.

D. REQUIRED SERVICES

1. The Contractor shall accept automated electronic data transfer and payment information from the OCL database. It is expected that the Contractor will work, at no cost, with OCL and its automation provider, Polaris Integrated Library Systems to ensure accurate and timely transmission of data via e-mail or FTP. On a monthly basis, the Contractor shall provide an Acknowledgement Report on all electronically submitted accounts.

2. The Contractor shall ensure the confidentiality, security and safety of all OCL files, documents, computer files, etc.

3. It is anticipated that most payments will be made directly to OCL. However, the Contractor shall maintain accurate records of any collection transactions received, including cash, money order, credit card and checks. These payments must be transmitted in full to OCL within one (1) business day.

4. The Contractor shall provide written documentation of OCL account numbers corresponding to payments written on all payment transactions; in addition, appropriate mechanisms for verifying and tracking all payments received shall be forwarded to OCL.

5. The Contractor shall provide on a monthly basis a report that details for each customer the value of materials returned, money received, charges waived, and balance due for all accounts submitted during the preceding six (6) months. The Contractor shall also provide custom, ad-hoc reporting requested by OCL at no additional charge.
6. The Contractor shall provide a Bankruptcy Report which includes: (1) A history of all accounts that reflect a “bankruptcy” status in OCL’s database; (2) A list of any accounts that were “new to bankruptcy” for the month; and, (3) A list of any accounts that were either discharged or dismissed during the month. Customers will be listed alphabetically by last name and the report will include an account number, the date the account was initiated by the Contractor, the original balance, current balance, last pay date, and the date on which the account was reported bankrupt.

7. Within one (1) week of receipt of submitted accounts from OCL, the Contractor shall use USPS to mail initial letters to customers.

8. The Contractor shall provide skip tracing services to locate customers with bad addresses. On a monthly basis the Contractor shall provide new addresses acquired to OCL, cross-referenced with customer account number.

9. When OCL provides customer date of birth and/or juvenile codes, the Contractor shall send written communications to the parents of all customers under the age of eighteen.

10. Information on all OCL accounts, including inactive accounts, must be available on demand.

11. The Contractor shall provide appropriate OCL staff 24-hour, live, interactive account access to customer information found in the Contractor’s database. This access should be through a secured connection and allow OCL to look at all accounts submitted to the Contractor, active or inactive, and their current status. It should also allow OCL to see collection activities that have occurred on the accounts. OCL staff should be able to easily suspend accounts, generate paid-in-full letters on Contractor letterhead, and create reports directly from the Contractor’s secured database 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

12. The Contractor must be available to act as a consultant to advise OCL in unusual collection matters.

13. The contract may be terminated with (30) days written notice by either party.
