What is Ocean County Library's Books-By Mail Service?

Just what the name says. Library books are borrowed and returned by mail.

Who is eligible to use Books-By-Mail?

Any homebound individual over 18 who has, or is eligible for, an Ocean County Library Borrower's Card and is unable to get into the physical library due to illness or disability. A physician must also complete the attached Medical Verification form.

How does Books-By-Mail work?

Once you have registered with Books-By-Mail, you can request books in writing or over the phone. (Limit: 4 books at a time)

How do I return books?

Each book is due back at the library on the latest date stamped on the receipt enclosed with your library delivery. To return books, put the materials in the same blue mailer bag. Flip the address index card over so that "Ocean County Library" and our address are face out. Attach the safety plastic in the same fashion as when it came to you. (You should find a new one inside the mailer bag with your books). The postage is prepaid by the Library. Once your books are ready, call your local post office to have them stop at your door to take the package.
